

Icebreaker Question Guide

Icebreaker questions can be a really great way to set group discussion up for success. They can be a great way to transition into the discussion, and the goal is to get everyone talking. To do that ask easy questions, utilize questions that help people get to know each other, and help everyone feel at ease. This is important, because if someone talks once, they'll probably talk again later in the spiritual discussion. Below are some potential icebreakers you can use to get your group talking!

1. What's your favorite movie?
2. What's your favorite ice cream flavor?
3. How do you like your eggs cooked?
4. What was the last TV show you watched?
5. What do you enjoy most about summer?
6. If you could live anywhere, where would it be? Why?
7. What was your first job?
8. What's been the highlight of your week?
9. What are you thankful for right now?
10. What is one thing you appreciate about our group?
11. What is one book that you've read in the past year?
12. Who is one person that has had a big influence in your life?
13. What is something God has been teaching you recently?
14. What are you looking forward to in our group this cycle?
